

Spaces Open for Qualified Applicants in the M. A. Theatre Studies Specialization Fall 2012

(Term begins 19 September 2012)

Whether your career goals involve pursuing a Ph.D. program, a teaching career in higher education, or dramaturgical work with regional theatres, you will find a challenging and rewarding path designed to take you to that next level at Central Washington University. Students completing our program have embarked in for careers in higher education internationally, regional theatres, and are pursuing Ph.D. degrees at some of the best institutions in the nation.

Generous assistantship packages are available to qualified students.

Paper application forms are available but the preferred and most expedited application can be found on line at <https://app.applyyourself.com/?id=cwugrad> (Separate applications are required for admission and assistantships).

International students are encouraged to apply.

Please feel free to contact department chair, Scott Robinson, with questions you may have at 509-963-1273.