The Six Degrees Emerging Artist Summer Intensive offers two weeks of high level and rigorous training in both film and television performance and voice-over, taught by working professionals. With a focus on performance styles, technique, emotional readiness, and making smart and specific choices, we push actors to reach their performance potential as we deeply explore the craft of acting. We are committed to preparing our students for success by giving them the confidence, knowledge, and tools needed to be working professionals, and are dedicated to fostering and furthering their careers.

Participants will have the opportunity to learn from long time working professionals, and to audition for and get feedback from Emmy nominated casting director Rhonda Fisekci and award winning voice director Dan McManus, in a safe classroom setting.

Class size is limited to 12 actors in order to ensure that each participant receives ample on-camera and on-mic time where students learn from peer feedback and performances, as well as their own work through comprehensive and professional one-on-one instruction. We welcome serious students who are keenly motivated, with a strong desire for a career in performance.
